Recalling the centuries-old Japanese tradition of Kintsugi, in which the cracks of broken pottery are repaired with gold, our Loom Vase weaves threads of shining brass across its facade, communicating the beauty of handmade imperfection. And while it may look like delicate porcelain, the vase is actually hand-shaped from blackened iron, meaning it's durable enough for everyday display atop a dining table or console—even with kids around. Whether filled with fresh flowers or spotlighted solo, the Loom elevates a space with the air of a rare treasure.Dimensions: Dia 5.5" x H 9.5"
